53rd Year—No. 33 PUBLISHED WEEKLY AT CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, CALIFORNIA 93921 PRICE, 15 CENTS

The thundering waves of the Pacific Ocean often leave serenity and beauty in their aftermath, as captured in this magnificent photograph by Art Connell, freelance professional photographer, paused along the 17-Mile Drive to photograph Bird Rock in a manner which few of us can see. He shot directly into the sun using the "zone system" technique. Art, the treasurer of Friends of Photography, announced that throughout the month of August two nationally acclaimed photo essayists are being featured in the Photography Center at Sunset . . . W. Eugene Smith and Bruce Davidson.

Concours d'Elegance Rousing Success Saturday

An estimated 5000 spectators turned out on a sunny Saturday at Pebble Beach to view the 130 elegant autos on display between the Del Monte Lodge and the 18th fairway of the Pebble Beach Golf Links.

For the first time he entertered his Rolls-Royce in the Concours d'Elegance, Ralph C. Shermund of Hillsborough won three blue ribbons, including the highly respected Lucius Beebe Award.

Shermund's 1937 Rolls-Royce PIII Sedan took a first in the closed pre-war class for Rolls-Royces, the Lucius Beebe trophy and was chosen the overall winner for the best car in the show.

One of the most highly regarded team of judges ever assembled for the Concours screened the select autos from 11 a.m. until past noon, with the winners announced in the afternoon.

All the proceeds from ticket sales and posters will go to the Community Hospital of the Monterey Peninsula. This was the 17th year the Concours d'Elegance was staged at Pebble Beach.

Reserve winner of the show was Harold S. Crosby of Sunland with a 1932 Packard Spt. Phaeton. He also took first place in the class for pre-war American classic cars, open.

Area residents capturing ribbons were:

R. F. McGraw of Carmel Highlands, 2nd, 1958 BMW sports convertible; Dr. O. J. Caselli of Pebble Beach, 3rd, 1923 Buick touring; Alton H. Walker of Pebble Beach, 3rd, 1939 Rolls-Royce Wraith; and J. van Amerongen of Pebble Beach, 2nd, 1965 Bentley S-3 sedan.

Many of the Rolls-Royces which were shown at the Concours will be included in the over 200 Rolls-Royces to be exhibited at the Monterey Fair Grounds, August 19th.

City May Get Part of Flander's Estate

At the City Council meeting last night, Carmel City Clerk Hugh Bayless announced that after a conversation with a Flander's Estate representative there was an indication that "there's a good possibility that the city will wind up with at least half of the estate."

With no protests heard at this public hearing on the annexation of the Flander's Estate, the first reading was approved by the council.

Before the Council retired into executive session, Councilman Herbert Blanks said that the Public Works Department was preparing to embark upon their annual street sealing program and asked the council for advice on a problem . . . namely what to do with the stockpile of gravel necessary for sealing. A number of places were explored for possible use, but the one place unanimously accepted by the council was along Mission between 9th and 10th Streets on city property. At this point Mission widens and there is a place 8'x60' that can be used. Sunset Center south playground was ruled out because the Sunset Commission last year objected quite bitterly about it being used for this purpose, according to Blanks.

After the executive session the council reconvened as a body and Councilman Gunnar Norberg made a motion to reduce the Tax Rate by 18c (an estimated equivalent of $44,000). This motion died for lack of a second. Norberg rebounded by making a mo-

No Damage At Museum

Tuesday afternoon at approximately 3 p.m. the Secretary of the new Carmel Museum of Art in the old Wells Fargo Bank, was narrowly missed by a lightening-like flash from the electrical fixture in the proposed office just off the main gallery.

Edith Eddy was busily at work when a long flash of fire flicked from the fixture and bounced off the floor. She quickly called the Volunteer Fire Department and the firemen were readily on the scene. The only damage was to the fixture itself.

Business Association moves Into high gear and a new office

With paint brush in hand, and 305 businessmen and women of Carmel behind her, Executive Secretary Kay Scott got busy putting the Carmel Business Association's first office in order.

After nearly 40 years (since its organization in 1928) the Association finally has an office out of which to operate. Only a handful of members came together in 1928 to form "an organization of business and professional men and women cooperating in the promotion of civic, social, economic and cultural welfare of Carmel-by-the-Sea." Their cause has not changed since, except for the addition of the words "cultural welfare" which were not previously included.

With the modest beginning of but a few members, only three businessmen stuck with it during the following few years after its organization. In the early 1930's members in the association were Harold Nielsen (Nielsen's Grocery), J. O. Handley (Carmel Builder's), and Col. Shelburn Robison (Robison and Whittlesey law firm). Dues for a year were only $1.00 as compared to the $15.00 dues paid today by 305 members.

When Col. Robison took over as president there were only 5 members, but when

PAST PINE CONE MEMBER FEATURED

A former member of the Pine Cone staff is the subject of a feature article in the August issue of Science of Mind Magazine. Mrs. Glenn Clairmonte, who for five years conducted two weekly evening classes in the Carmel Adult School, and who is now making her home in Downey, was interviewed by Mrs. Helen Munger who entitled her article A Weaver of Words: the Glenn Clairmonte Story.

Mrs. Clairmonte is the author of three biographies: John Sutter of California, published by Thomas Nelson & Sons; Calamity Was the Name for Jane, published by Alan Swallow and, in England, by Neville Spearman, Ltd.; and Conspicuous Woman, the story of Mrs. Leslie Carter, soon to appear. She is now in her eleventh year of lecturing weekly on contemporary authors, their lives and complete works.

Mrs. Clairmonte is at present preparing a book-length ms. on ESP entitled Unriddle Me This. She is still receiving contributions to this compilation from people who have had psychic or other extra-sensory experiences that affected their lives. She invites her Carmel friends who want to confide their "finest moments" to communicate with her by writing to the Downey City Library.

MEDICARE

by Raymond S. MacDonald

Q. I will soon be 65 years old. I own and operate a restaurant and I plan to continue running the restaurant as long as I can. When should I sign up for Medicare? Will the fact that I plan to go on working affect my Medicare benefits.?

A. First of all, your eligibility for hospital and medical insurance benefits under Medicare is not affected by whether you continue working or decide to retire at age 65.

If you are not now receiving Social Security benefits, you should visit your Social Security Branch Office two or three months before you reach 65 and apply for monthly Social Security benefits. You should do this even if you do not plan to retire right away. Your application will establish your eligibility for Medicare hospital insurance protection, beginning with the month you are 65, whether or not you continue to work. Also, by applying for monthly cash benefits several months before you reach 65, you help make sure that your benefits will start promptly when you do retire. At the same time that you apply for monthly cash benefits and Medicare hospital insurance protection, you can sign up for voluntary medical insurance, the second part of Medicare. Your medical insurance protection will cost you $3 a month, with the Government paying an additional $3 for you.

MARKET COMMENTARY

Dow Theory Business and Stock Market Forecasts letter of August 11th, states "The summer rally remained alive this week despite the rails and there are no indications as yet that the upswing is over; continue to buy and hold common stock." —"After reaching new highs early this month, the market outlook remains bright at least through the end of the month. Continue to buy and hold stocks for the higher prices expected immediately ahead and later on in the year."

Leo Cartwright

Leo George Cartwright, noted designer of stained glass windows and a former resident of Carmel Valley, died recently in Blandford, England. A native of England, where he studied art, he was 68.

He designed the rose window of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York and several windows for Grace Cathedral in San Francisco, among others.

He came in 1951 with his wife to Carmel Valley where he established his own studio. Three of his windows are to be seen in the Carmel Valley Community Church. They returned to England in 1964.

Mr. Cartwright also left two sons, one of which, Gabriel, is a stained glass designer in the United States; the other, Cmdr. Brian Cartwright, serves with the NATO forces in Canada.

Eleanor Handy

Mrs. Eleanor Carlson Handy, who lived on Sloat Road in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club for the past 13 years, died last week after a long period of failing health. She was 67, the wife of the late Colonel Harold F. Handy, who died in San Francisco in 1959. She is survived by a sister and nephew in Portland, Oregon and a brother in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Funeral services were held Friday at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church with the Reverend Walter W. Grumm of ficiating. She was buried in the West Point Military Academy Cemetery in New York. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Committee Head Named Recently

Bank of America Vice-President Robert E. Zenk has been appointed California chairman of the National Farm-City Committee, Inc.

In announcing the appointment Lawrence A. Hapgood, executive secretary of the national organization, noted that Zenk will be serving a second term as statewide chairman in California.

CARMEL VALLEY HIGHLANDERS

Bag-pipers at Forest Theatre Sunday Afternoon

The skirling of bag-pipes will be heard once more Sunday afternoon, when the Salinas Valley Highlanders form at the city hall for the march up Ocean Avenue to the Forest Theater, where their performance has become an annual summer event. The program, sponsored by the City of Carmel, is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock. It is a part of the Forest Theater summer series, all free to the public.

The following Sunday afternoon (Aug. 27), there is no program scheduled in the Forest Theater, as the entire week-end will be devoted to final rehearsals for the musical drama, "Oliver," which is now re-scheduled to open Friday evening, September 1st. It will play the two following evenings, September 2nd and 3rd, and also the next week-end — September 8th, 9th, and 10th.

Principal roles in "Oliver," which is based on the Charles Dickens novel, "Oliver Twist," will be played by Dick Vreeland, as Fagin; Maggie Weston, as Nancy; Paul Hazdovac as Bill Sykes. The role of Oliver will be played alternately by Scott McGowan and Peter Granoff.

Christensen Addressed Rotary

Fresno attorney, Alan D. Christensen, governor of Rotary District 522, addressed the Carmel Rotary Club, Wednesday, August 16, at the La Playa Hotel.

Christensen, who talked on "Personal Involvement in Rotary," was introduced by Carmel Rotary President, Tom Brown.

The Rotary District Governor said, "Personal involvement has to start with the individual who has a strong desire and the will to better serve his community. The community leaders in the Carmel Rotary Club are living proof of personal involvement in action."

Christensen met with Carmel Rotary officers and committee heads at an assembly the night before to discuss ways and means Rotarians could better serve Rotary and Carmel.

Rotary District 522 is comprised of 43 clubs in Central California.

Zachary Lansdowne and his bride

Lansdowne-Cucinell Wedding

In a ceremony in which the only light shed was by long white candles at each pew in a little stone country church in Westchester County, New York, Zachary Fenton Lansdowne of Carmel was married to Janet Lynne Cucinell of Crestwood, New York and Clinton, Connecticut, Monday of last week. After an introductory chorale, the bride was led to the altar by her father, Mr. R. Albert Cucinell, and the ceremony was conducted by the Reverend George F. Weyand.

For her wedding, the bride chose an A-line cage formal length gown of Venise lace appliqued on English netting which showed the fitted bodice underneath. A mantilla with matching floor length Illusion veil, was also appliqued with Venise lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids, stephanotis and gypsophila.

Janet's bridesmaid's included a cousin of the bridegroom, Miss Elizabeth Hunt, of Washington, D.C. They wore gowns of white embroidered silk organza over pink with flower petal hats, short white gloves, and carried bouquets of chiffon sweetheart roses, stephanotis and gypsophila.

Bill Thomas, a fraternity brother, served as Zachary's best man, and Robert Cucinell, the bride's brother, was included among the ushers.

The reception took place on the terrace overlooking the Tappan-Zee bridge of the Hudson at the Tappan Hill restaurant, at one time the home of Mark Twain. Inside there was dancing and a dinner which began with an entire pineapple holding a fruit cocktail at each place. Here again decorations were white flowers and candlelight.

Janet is a senior at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Albert Cucinell of Crestwood, New York and Clinton, Connecticut. Mr. Cucinell is a real estate consultant and appraiser.

Zachary is the son of Captain (USN, ret.) and Mrs. F. M. Lansdowne, and the namesake of Captain Zachary Landsdowne of Carmel, the first American to fly the Atlantic in 1919. He is a NDEA fellow, working towards a doctorate in Operations Research at Stanford University. His B.A. and M.A. degrees were received from M.I.T. where he was a recipient of a National Science Foundation Traineeship. He was a member of Eta Kappa

Martin Katz To Be Married

The wedding of Georgia M. Henderson and Dr. Martin Katz will take place at the Highland Inn Chapel on Sunday afternoon at two, the Reverend Sidney Peterman officiating.

Georgia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Holt Henderson of Yonkers, New York. Martin is the son of Anna Katz, longtime Carmel resident, formerly proprietor of a dress shop which she started back in the '20's. She now follows a new profession during her retirement, that of artist in oils.

Given in marriage by her father, Georgia's only attendant will be Mrs. Ann Peter of San Francisco. For his best man, Martin chose his brother, Joseph Agliano of Oakland. Richard Bonjean of Carmel will serve as usher. A small reception will follow.

Farrar-Whelan Nuptials

The late afternoon wedding of Phyllis Jean Farrar and Barton Beard Whelan, both of Carmel Highlands, took place on Saturday at the Church of the Wayfarer, the Reverend Alexander C. Bryans officiating. The church was decorated with pink gladiolas and white carnations.

Phyllis is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Farrar of Carmel Highlands and Mr. Philip James Farrar of Newport Beach who was present to give his daughter's hand in marriage. Barton is the son of Mrs. Jack Martin and Mr. E. B. Whelan of Carmel.

For her bridal dress, Phyllis wore an angel cage gown of soft Chantilly lace, with long glove point sleeves. A showering cloud of imported bridal illusion net held in place by a white satin rose formed her veil and served as her sweeping train. She carried a bridal bouquet composed of cymbidium orchids and stephanotis.

Phyllis chose her sister, Mrs. S. H. Boyer III of San Mateo, for her matron of honor. Her other attendants were Mrs. Clayton Hibbert and the Misses Karen Kabler, Christine Johnson, and Candy Knapp, all of Carmel. They wore long chiffon gowns in combinations of light and dark pink, which had long sleeves, floor length trains, and matching tulle hats.

Barton chose for his best man, Clayton Hilbert, while Tom Faia, David Rosenkranz, Art Carrial, all of Carmel, and the bride's brother, Peter Farrar of Sacramento, served as ushers.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the Highlands Inn for about 200 friends and relatives, many of them from Fresno, Modesto and Vancouver, British Columbia.

The bride's mother wore a dark rose-flowered print chiffon suit with matching accessories, while the groom's mother wore a yellow silk frock with cocoa accessories.

Both Phyllis and Barton attended Carmel Schools and Monterey Peninsula College. Barton went on to attend Oregon State University and Sacramento State College where he is working toward a degree in criminology.

For her honeymoon trip to Montreal where they will visit Expo '67, the bride left in a taupe colored suede suit trimmed with darker colored leather, with matching accessories. The young couple will live in Sacramento when they return until Barton finishes his studies there.

Among stake sponsors were Stuart Haldron as well as Mrs. Work, Mr. van Loben Sels, and Del Monte Properties, and among trophy donors were Mr. Thomas Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Mace Pewtherer, Mr. Mark Raggett, and George and Mildred Dear. Many other committee members of course participated to make the event a success.

Sing Out at the Fair

Fair audiences sat on the lawn to listen to Sing Out Monterey singers last weekend and at times joined in their infectious rhythms. The boys and girls meet for rehearsals every Friday evening at Pacific Grove Junior High School. There are no tests to pass, all you need is enthusiasm and the desire to express friendliness to join. About 13 or 13 Carmel and Pebble Beach are members of this group although others are in traveling groups all over the world.

Shooting Meets in England

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. W. Nason of Pebble Beach, and their son, Bill, recently returned from their house in Surrey, England, where they go every year to participate in the nearby National Rifle Association meets. Mr. Nason, Bill and 2 other Americans were among the 2000 men assembled there from Africa, New Zealand and other parts of the British Empire.

Mr. Nason took part in a contest for former colonies of the British Empire in which the U. S. came off second. One newspaper had a headline: "America Shoots its Way Back into the Empire." Later, he and several other men went up to Cambridge to shoot.

Bill won a cup for hunting, a third place for trap shooting at 1100 yards, and won a running deer competition.

Ruth Warshawsky, wife of the late distinguished artist, Abel Warshawsky, and well known here for her acting ability, will take part in a 20th Centry Fox production, "Star" based on the life of the late Gertrude Lawrence, in which Julie Andrews will star. Liana Zambresky, 16, of Pebble Beach turned in a beautiful performance at the 19th USGA Girls Junior Championship at La Habra's Hacienda Golf Course. In this, her first national tournament, she reached the finals and was runner-up to "Doll" Story, also 16. Doll lost in the quarter finals last year, but this year her putter was really hot. She defeated Liana 5 & 4 in Match Play.

"A STORM IN THE AIR," 30"x24' was chosen for the cover of IMPRESARIO Magazine.

"THE OLD ROMAN ROAD," 8'x10"

Art Magazine Features Local Artist James Peter Cost

On a recent afternoon, a representative from IMPRESARIO MAGAZINE, published in Lanthrup Village, Michigan, came into the Carmel Seascape Gallery, took a turn around the gallery, became impressed with the paintings of James Peter Cost, and sought to interview the artist who is described in the magazine as having "a perfected, God-given talent."

As a result of the interview, the Arts magazine chose Cost's "A Storm in the Air" to be reproduced on the front cover in full color, and inside presented a three page feature article on the attitudes and beliefs of James Peter Cost.

The feature article brought out that Cost paints in such a way as "to give one the feeling that his paintings are performed quickly, easily, without effort or great deal of time. Such, however, is a relative appraisal that can be misleading . . . he sketches, makes watercolors, resketches, sometimes, in oil and becomes complete in his satisfaction that composition is what he is striving for."

It talked about how many artists in present days succumb to "production" rather that concentration on pure art, and how some current artists are influenced to produce almost matching paintings just because they sell quickly and make more money. The article points out that Cost takes his time and refuses to hurry. "It is quality, not quantity of the work that is important," Cost told the reporter.

The article well points out James Peter Cost's "capability to withstand current materialism, fads, junk styles and the temptation for quick wealth."

OBITUARIES

Josephine M. Baber

Word comes that Mrs. Josephine M. Baber, who built the La Rambla Building on Lincoln Street in 1927, still one of the beauty spots of Old Carmel, passed away last month in a Huntington Beach hospital. She was buried at the Good Shepherd Cemetery there.

Mrs. Baber who must be remembered by all old-timers since she lived here over 30 years, was born in Keokuk, Iowa, in 1870 but was reared in St. Louis, Missouri. She is survived by her daughter, Lucille Kilester, who also lived here many years before moving to Seal Beach, California, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Patricia Miller of Honolulu, Hawaii and Emerald Bay. She is survived also by four great-grandchildren and one great great-grandchild.

Laura Maxwell

Laura Maxwell, a leading spirit among the early day artists who organized the Carmel Art Association, died last week in Fort Ord Hospital.

Daughter of a pioneer Nevada family, she was born Laura Wasson in Carson City in 1877. She made her home here with the late Capt. William Lindsay Maxwell (USN) until his death in 1929 when she moved to Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Maxwell studied with Sydney Yard of San Francisco and moved to Carmel when he moved his studio here in 1906.

With the pioneer artists of Monterey and Carmel she showed her work in the old Arts and Crafts Hall which stood where the Golden Bough Circle Theatre is now. She was one of those who helped build the first Carmel Art Association Gallery and donated paints to cancel the mortgage.

Her floral paintings, marines and landscapes in oil and watercolor have been shown not only in art centers here but as far away as Paris and Peking, China.

Private family services were held with Paul Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

MY MOST INTERESTING TRIP

A Near-Incident at Brenner

(Or)

A Farewell to Austria

by John H. Livingstone

We were speeding toward Brenner Pass aboard the Salzburg-Milan Express one cold day in November. My four month-old daughter Kim needed another bottle of formula warmed, so I dutifully picked up the bottle and trudged ten cars back to the kitchen car. A brawny, sweaty Austrian, wielding a meat-cleaver over a chopping board covered with veal took the bottle from me and sullenly thrust it into a pan of water on the stove, not deigning to look up, and returned with renewed violence to his chopping board.

As I stood in the vestibule outside the kitchen for what seemed an exasperatingly long time, a porter approached bearing a basket of orange soda pop. I knew this beverage (the product of an Austrian national monopoly) only by its bad reputation. The butt of many insults and jokes, this orange concoction had been produced by the government in order to leave no doubt in anyone's mind that the national beverage in Austria would forever remain beer, it was often claimed. Never in my two years' residence in that beautiful country had I been foolhardy or courageous enough to try that lowly beverage. Whether it was due to the fact that I was now leaving the country perhaps forever, or that I succumbed to an overwhelming curiosity, I don't recall; however, I bought a bottle and took a long, resolute swig. I suddenly knew that its reputation was well deserved. As precious seconds passed, the prospect of swallowing the wretched drink became increasingly repugnant. Fears of what it was capable of doing to my stomach asailed me with terrible force.

Providence led my eyes to a basin filled with meat scraps, fat and bones on the floor of the car. The orange soda pop sped swiftly to its target. I stood there smugly congratulating myself on my narrow escape, when the cook, eyes aflame and with cleaver wildly waving, shouted a torrent of curses and exclamations, among which I distinctly heard, "Mein Gott, das ist meine suppe!" What I had taken for a basin of refuse was in reality his consomme stock. Horrified and frightened, one of my first thoughts was that my act had put Americans in a most unfavorable light, and since each of us is a sort of ambassador when abroad, the honor of my country was at stake. This called for drastic action, so I blurted out, in as French an accent as I could muster, "Pardon, Monsieur, pardon," grabbed the baby's bottle and flew through the train back to my compartment, not daring to look back.

Our farewell dinner to Austria consisted of apples and a thermos of tea in our compartment, while I suppose most of our fellow passengers enjoyed a hearty supper of consomme "au orange" and weiner schnitzels.

Years later, now that DeGaulle has chosen to treat us so shabbily, all the nagging feelings of guilt and pangs of conscience for my disservice to France have been somewhat assuaged.

Many children will be riding their bicycles to and from various recreation areas. Watch out for them. They may not be watching for you.

Henri Wiethase

Henri Wiethase, who had lived with his wife Gladys Wiethase in Carmel since 1959, died last Thursday in a local convalencent hospital.

Born in Antwerp, Belgium in 1882, he came to California in 1906. He was the former manager and owner of a Long Beach Tool Company and a member of the Oil Production Pioneer organization of Long Beach. He was a member of the Monterey History and Art Association.

Mr. Wiethase is also survived by a daughter, two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Private family services were held in the Little-Chapel-by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove, followed by memorial services the next day, with pivate inurnment in the El Carmelo Cemetery Urn Garden, Paul Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Gift Packages for Vietnam

Christmas may seem a long way off for most of us, but not for the volunteers and staff at the Carmel-by-the-Sea Chapter of the American Red Cross who are busy with preparations for Santa Claus Gift Bag Project.

This special community project, which last year sent more than 400,000 gift-filled Christmas ditty bags to our fighting men in Vietnam, affords individual citizens and organizations the opportunity of sending various recreational and comfort items overseas through the help and cooperation of Red Cross Chapters across the country.

PARTY PLANS . . .

by Phyllis Jervey

"Weather Permitting Menu"

Carmel's fickle sun doesn't always shine on summer visitors, yet they still arrive bumper-to-bumper. Why? Quaint shops, gorgeous natural scenery, cool climate, theater-art-music and versatile entertaining. The rest of the sweltering crowd has heard of our morning and evening fog and so they come to call on us.

If the Peninsula hostess is wise, her outdoor menu has a "W.P." main dish that can be relished on retreat from charcoal to dining room. The following entertaining tips cover a Patio Supper and Cook-Out, but are geared to a weather-permitting schedule. An out-door-turned-inside party easily managed is:

Weather Permitting Supper
Fruited Wine Cooler
Hamburger Kebabs and/or Frankfurter Kebabs with Marinade for Both
Heated Buns or Rolls
Roquefort and Strawberries
Shine or Fog Casserole

Fruited Wine Cooler

One pint cultivated blueberries (or equivalent in frozen); 3 bananas, diced; 1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) pineapple tidbits; 1 can lemonade concentrate, undiluted; Rose and Sauterne wine.

Combine fruit with syrup and lemonade. Chill well then place ¼ cup fruit mixture in each tall glass. Add ice cubes. Fill glasses with choice of filled wine. Serve with straws and long spoons. For Ready-to-Go Patio-Side: Make up fruit mixture, store in covered container in refrigerator until needed. As a test, fruit combination described was stored 3 days and color and shape were fully retained.

Hamburger and/or Franfurter Kebabs

For Hamburger Kebabs: Two lbs. ground beef; 1 cup rolled oats; 2 tsps. salt; ¼ tsp. seasoned pepper; 2 tbsps. each, prepared mustard and horseradish; 2 eggs; medium stuffed olives; marinade.

Combine ingredients except olives and marinade; mix well. Shape around olives to make 45 small balls. Marinate several hours. Drain and thread on skewers, alternating with canned mushrooms crowns and squares of green pepper. Place on grill over hot coals. Cook to desired degree, turning once; brush marinade during cooking. To serve: Slide off skewers into hot buns. Makes 16 kebabs.

For Frankfurter Kebabs: Cut 12 franfurters in fourths crosswise. Marinate several hours then drain. Alternate frankfurter pieces and 2 cherry tomatoes on each skewer. Grill over hot coals, brushing with marinade until franks are browned. Slide off skewers into hot rolls. Makes 16 kebabs.

Marinade for Both

Two tbsps. cornstarch; ¼ cup cold water; 1/3 cup vinegar; 2 tbsps. light brown sugar; 2 cups Burgandy wine; 1 sliced onion; 4 crushed peppercorns; 1 crumbled bay leaf;, oregano and salt to taste.

Blend cornstarch and water; add vinegar, sugar and wine. Cook and stir over low heat until thickened. Remove and add rest and cool. Pour over meats in deep bowl and chill. These should be cooked outside and if necessary served inside.

Shine or Fog Casserole

One 1 lb. dried lima beans; 2 sliced onions; salt and pepper; 4 bacon slices; 1 can (6 oz.) broiled sliced mushrooms; ½ cup chili sauce or ketchup; 1 tbsps. Worcestershire; 1 tbsp. sugar; ½ cup Burgundy wine; 2 tbsps. each, cornstarch and cold water; 1 cup soft bread crumbs.

Soak beans overnight in cold water to cover. Drain and cover with boiling water. Add onion; cook slowly until beans are tender. Drain and season to taste. Cook bacon until crisp; drain and crumble; save drippings. Drain mushrooms; save broth. Add mushrooms and Combine mushroom broth, chili sauce, Worcestershire, sugar and wine; measure; add enough water to make 2 cups. Blend cornstarch and cold water. Add and cook, stirring over low heat until thickened; add to bean mixture. Turn into 2-qt. casserole. Combine crumbs and bacon drippings; scatter on top. Bake at 400 F. about 30 minutes. Makes 8 servings. Great to serve in or outside.

Finish off with half or a quarter of a wheel of imported Roquefort cheese and strawberries with hulls intact. Have separate bowls of powdered and brown sugar, sour cream and yogurt, or one of each for berry dipping and provide crackers for the cheese with plenty of good strong coffee, wine, beer, soft drinks. That's Carmel, shine or fog!

"You don't have to cancel your party just because the fog rolls in, just charcoal it outside and serve indoors!"

In accordance with a proclamation by the United Nations, 1967 is the International Tourism Year, and Sweden plans to (1) abolish airport tax on tourists and (2) change its traffic system from left-hand to right-hand driving. by Brandy and Pheemy
as told by Andre Hope

Ever since the fair, all we've heard is horses, horses, horses. Now how can someone get excited over a dumb animal like that? Seems she really went for a couple of them: a five gaited one named Glen Raven, who belonged to Jim Lowe of Huron; and a jumper, Mannings, Berry Hill Farms, which she swears could fly. Flying horses! We should hope not! Have enough trouble with pigeons and seagulls as it is.

If you think the human world is strange, you should hear what they're doing to us now. At a recent convention of dog accessory manufacturers they showed pup tents for pups to take on camping trips. Or how about costumes for dogs to wear to parties, really! Might be fun at that. Think of all the things you could do in disguise. On the other hand, a real friend to dogs is Mr. Rex Harrison, the actor. He refused to go on with his current picture until his basset puppy, Homer, was written into the script at $250 a week. If that isn't living high off the porterhouse! You might know the picture is called "A Flea in the Ear." Haven't noticed any talent scouts sniffing around our kennel. Maybe we could talk him into getting out his camera and doing a picture starring us. Goodness knows there are enough supporting players in our area. A CAST OF THOUSANDS.

Don't think this idea of dogs working should go too far. According to the paper under our breakfast there is a burglar who has trained himself an anti-police dog dog. Now that's not nice! We even heard a man telling our people that there is a golfer at his club he swears has taught his dog to bark when his opponent is about to make a tough shot. We still remember the chow who used to pull his master's golf clubs around the Pacific Grove course. A regular golf hound.

Then there are Reno and Peso, a pair of cockers who live aboard their master's sailing ship, "The Black Dolphin," and their friend, Billy the Kid, a lady type Catalina goat. They stand guard when he is ashore. Which reminds us, pets on boats should have life perservers and should be given a little row around before a trip of any length to see how they take it. We dogs are inclined to get very seasick, though have heard that tranquilizers often help. Love to see Brandy's daughter Champy out sailing. Of course, she'd have to have a quadra-kini.

While we're all at sea, you know how our mistress has been talking about a children's zoo and small oceanarium on the Monterey Peninsula. Now along come these naval experts who say Monterey Bay is the greatest natural oceanographic laboratory on earth! Which is quite a statement and only goes to show that we're smarter than some (most) people think. Of course now it's up to all of your people to do something about it; make studies and things like that. Especially since, as we told you, the man who owns Sea Life Park in Honolulu thinks oceanography is about to become the biggest new business around. Maybe even Scott Carpenter would come here. Wonder if he has a dog that likes to live under water? Write and tell us what you think about all this, not forgetting our zoo. While you're about it there is still time to send a name for our lady turtle and her egg. WE'LL announce the winner and the prize next week. Until then, think wet!

The Complete Gardener

. . . a regular diet of information having to do with plants

We had so much comment on last spring's column that featured unusual statistics that we decided to do it again. So hang on and be prepared to absorb.

It takes two gallons of liquid fertilizer to equal the same amounts of nutrients contained in 20 pounds of a dry fertilizer with the same analysis. It takes 23 pounds of soil sulphur to increase the acidity of 1000 sq. ft. of average soil by one point. To lower acidity by one point requires 70 pounds of agricultural lime for the same area.

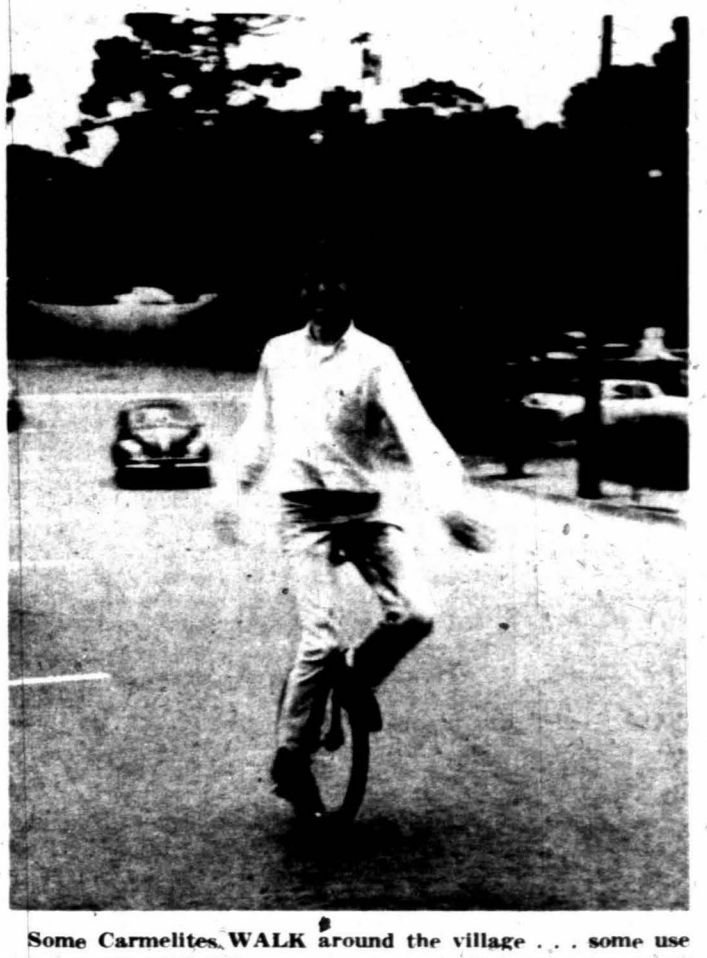
Chrysanthemums planted earlier this year will make their best growth when the surrounding air is damp and the nights are cool. Feedings should be started in mid-August with a 6-9-6 analysis fertilizer.

If you have a sandy soil you can drown root aphids and centipedes with plentiful waterings. Excessive, deep cultivation kills feeder roots. Soils can be kept in better condition with mulchings of ground composted fir bark. For best flavor and fragrance plant herbs in a sunny spot, in a sandy soil to which lime has been added, and do not feed heavily.

It takes two holly trees to produce a crop of berries. The best time to transplant an evergreen is late August or early September. Oak leaf mold is not an adequate acidifier. Moss grows on poor soil that needs aerifying and feeding. Hedges should be trimmed narrower at the top lower leaves. Long-stemmed roses make fine cut flowers but the loss of too much foliage during the growing season will cause low vitality in the plants and leave them susceptible to disease. Spectracide should be sprayed on plants regularly to keep the pest population under control.

Cacti grown in pots need occasional watering. Indoor plants are often overwatered. Those with bloom require more water than foliage plants. Allowing seed heads to remain on plants will result in reduced blooming.

Dried kelp is the best source of organic potash. The best time to kill poison oak is time to kill poison oak is now, while it's in lush growth. Succulents should be watered from below. Peach trees which suffered heavily from curly-leaf should be fed a complete fertilizer, with at least 6% nitrogen, after the fruit is off. Some of our most persistent weeds will be viewed in next week's session.



Some Carmelites WALK around the village . . . some use their AUTOMOBILES . . . some their BICYCLES BUILT FOR TWO . . . and at least one resident now uses his unicycle.

The morning after the Concours d'Elegance at Pebble Beach, Jinny and Johnny Zack of the Carmel Cottages, located just off Carpenter Street, has made it a practice to entertain MG participants with a "get together" breakfast. This year two clubs met at the cottages for breakfast on the patio, and talked about the previous day's experiences. She was honored with 3rd place winner in the MG class, John Van Hise from Huntington Beach. The clubs at the breakfast were the Abbington Rough Riders from the San Francisco Bay area and the T. C. Kiwanians on Radio

The Carmel Kiwanis Club completely takes over radio station KRML Saturday, all in the interest of raising money for their youth fund which goes primarily toward providing scholarships.

The Kiwanians will sell ads to local businesses to be broadcast over the station; perform disc jockey chores and generally speak to the public.

Chairman for this Radio Rodeo, Hal Reliford, urges everyone to listen . . . to their mistakes and "boo-boos." It should be interesting.

Masons meeting for lunch on Mondays at the Carmel Lodge building on Lincoln between 7th and 8th have been enjoying excellent programs and fellowship.

August 7th, the program speaker was George Hattie who enlightened his listeners considerably on the subject of Canada.

Circle Board Members Hear McPhee List Year's Achievements

With the president, Brig. Gen. Francis Hill (U.S.A. Ret.) presiding, a full quota of board members who attended the August meeting of directors of the Community Theatre of Monterey Peninsula, heard Circle Theatre director Norman McPhee report on the Circle's Golden Bough Players' first season of repertory.

"This is a two-fold 'first' for us," Mr. McPhee said. "We have four plays running and the Circle Theater opens its doors to residents and visitors six nights every week.

"The current productions involve four talented casts of players, four stage crews, plus box office executives and ushers, totalling 75 enthusiastic and dedicated volunteers from all parts of Monterey Peninsula.

"Our four prouctions, scheduled to run through Labor Day, were selected by the Play Committee with variety of appeal and 'top flight theater' the objectives. We searched the 'play markets' from here to New York for comedy, tragedy, farce and romance, classic and contemporary."

The Circle Theater Repertory '67 includes: "Charley's Aunt," "Hedda Gabler," "Room Service," and "The Subject Was Roses."

Nicholas is the son of Commander (USN) and Mrs. Nicholas Sabalos. The boy made the model while a passenger with his parents on a previous voyage on the SS PRESIDENT WILSON.

As he presented the replica, young Nicholas sheepishly apologized: "I'm sorry, but I accidentally knocked one of the propellers off!"

"You've got troubles?" countered Capt. Wilson. "Listen to mine. We just spent four days in drydock for propeller repairs."

The Sabalos family, including Pamela, 11, and Nina, 5, were destined for Yokohama.

Local Residents Cited in New W. W. II Book

Edwin T. Layton, of Malpaso Road, Carmel, and Rubin Harold Konig, of Route 3, Carmel, are among the veterans of the World War II Battle of Midway who contributed his reminiscences to a new book.

The book, "Incredible Victory" by Walter Lord is a minute-by-minute account of the history-making battle. The local men, veterans of the fighting, supplied author Lord with information about what they were doing in June 1942, when the outclassed American fleet defeated a superior Japanese force.

The book, which was just released to bookstores throughout the country, will be published in England later this year.

OBITUARIES

Roger Wiley

Memorial services for popular Roger Wiley, woodcarver and cabinet maker were held Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Wayfarer, with Reverend Alexander Bryans officiating, following the private family services held the day before at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Wiley, who was 88 on his last birthday, came to Carmel in 1950 following retirement as a plant engineer in Los Angeles. His retirement was spent pursuing his lifelong hobby of woodcarving and cabinet making one of many examples of which is the worship table in Fellowship Hall of the Church of the Walfarer.

Born in Peabody, Massachusetts and twice widowed, he married the former Mrs. Alice Lumley in 1960. They made their home on Mission Street. In addition to Mrs. Wiley, he leaves two sons, three grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Contributions in the memory of Mr. Wiley may be made to Community Hospital, P.O. Box HH, Carmel.

Artist Aid Benefit Sunday Afternoon

Carmel will be well represented at the fifth annual benefit tea and silent auction, sponsored by the Altrusa Club of the Monterey Peninsula, Sunday afternoon, August 20, from 2 until 4 at Monterey's Estrada Adobe, on Tyler Street.

Artists Hans Skaalegaard and Gael Baldock are each contributing a painting, and sculptor Lenore Woolams is doing a ceramic portrait to help raise funds for the club's community service projects.

Mr. Skaalegaard's studio is on Dolores and Fifth, Miss Woolams is on San Carlos at Ninth, while Mr. Baldock is sharing a studio in Carmel Valley Village, the Decorative Arts Studio, with Mrs. Marie Bayman.

A dramatic water color of the sailing vessel "Acamus" was chosen by Mr. Skaalegaard as his contribution, and Mr. Baldock's choice was his oil "Dahlias," in gold, crimson, and hot pink tones.

Miss Woolams sculpture will be done on commission following the auction.

Co-chairman for the affair are Mrs. Don (Lois) Lamar and Miss Doris Plubell, both of Carmel, who have invited interested persons to participate not only by attending but by contributing worthwhile articles for the auction. Definitely not a "rummage sale," the auction will offer a variety of items such as gourmet foods, Christmas gifts and decorations, candles, books, records, jewelry, collectors items, ceramics, and a bargain table of odds and ends not fitting into any particular category. Plants will be for sale in the patio.

Funds raised will benefit the club's local scholarship fund, which has provided assistance to the Lyceum, Handicapped Activities Unlimited, and Beacon House, as well as given supplemental aid to several selected local women for retraining to reenter the labor market.

The club has also given camperships to girl scouts and scholarships to students to attend the World Affairs Council.

Mrs. Lamar and Miss Plubell will be at the Estrada adobe on Saturday, August 19, from 10 to 12 in the morning and 1 to 5 in the afternoon to receive additional donations of saleable items.

The paintings will be on display the week prior to the auction at the Western Title Company building, next door to the adobe.

Donation to the tea and auction is one dollar and tickets will be available at the door.

Carmel Youth Center Benefited

As a result of Monterey Peninsula Thrift Shop Sales in July, a check for $1849 was given to Mrs. M. H. Tobiasen, assistant director of the CYC. She in turn passed it on to Miss Connie Wermuth and Miss Shirley Lama, representatives who said it things such as this that helped them help themselves.

Another $1000 donation went to the Lyceum of Monterey for work with gifted children, and still another $1000 went to Pioneer House in Seaside to help reach the sum required by the Federal Government to establish a Child Care Center.

Monterey County Symphony Guild will receive proceeds from November 6-17 sales.

The shop is located at 785 Broadway in Seaside, is open every weekday from noon until 4 p.m. Salable merchandise of any description is acceptable and all work is voluntary.

Seen Any Marked Seagulls Lately?

Last February Mr. William Timmons, a Carmel artist, saw a seagull on Carmel Beach with an orange marker on its wing. Curiosity led Bill to ask Mr. Verne Yaden of the Pacific Grove Museum of Natural History if he had any knowledge or interest in this. Mr. Yaden suggested that Mr. Timmons contact Mr. Kenneth L. Diem of the Dept. of Zoology and Physiology at the University of Wyoming, which he did.

Mr. Diem stated that the marker is one of theirs used in Wyoming which is the breeding grounds for the California Gull. He said they marked 99 gulls last year and they have received reports on 57 sightings. One bird, No. 86, was seen at three different times between December and February on Carmel Beach. Another bird, No. 90 was seen 12 miles offshore Westport, Washington in September then was reported in November near Pacific Grove.

If you see any gulls with the orange tags on their wings, Mr. Diem would appreciate hearing from you.

Big Sur Wedding

The former Grace Ann Crosby of Carmel was married to Douglas Cutris Donovan in St. Francis-of-the-Redwoods ceremony at Big Sur early in August. Her husband is on leave from Vietnam. After he returns to complete his tour, Mrs. Donovan will live in Carmel with her mother, Mrs. Herbert Crosby.

Horace Altree

Horace Vernon Altree, Carmel resident for several years, died last week in a local nursing home. Born in Birmingham, England, 85 years ago, Mr. Altree was a newspaperman on the staff of the Napa Register for 19 years.

He and his wife, Alice Irene Altree, lived at Carpenter and 2nd. He also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Robert Little of Carmel, a son, Vernon Altree, of Stockton, six grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Private graveside services were held in Cementerio El Encinal, with Bishop Lynn R. Hanson of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints of Pacific Grove officiating. The Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

Larry Sweeney

Lawrence James Sweeney, a Carmel resident for 32 years, died recently at his home on Oliver Road. He is survived by his wife, Mary Ann, and his son, James Harrington Sweeney, both of Carmel. His daughter, Patricia Ann Sweeney lives in Orinda.

Larry Sweeney was manager of the Roman Plunge at the old Hotel Del Monte from 1936 to 1941 when he left to enter aviation, eventually becoming an instructor. Later he returned to Del Monte, beoming swimming instructor at the Beach Club at Pebble Beach. When he died he was race chairman for the Stillwater Yacht Club.

Funeral services were held last week at the Mission Mortuary, to be followed by burial in the Catholic Cemetery.

In Carmel,
WE HAVE JUST LISTED a sweet little charmer in that wonderful wooded area near the Forest Theater, an easy walk to town, but so secluded that even many local people don't know this particular short street is there. The price is just $32,500, it has a truly gourmet kitchen, a huge master bedroom with many built-ins and a patio entrance, and a paneled second bedroom besides. Two baths, wonderful fireplace, big dining room, and it's only 3 years old. Also, the enchanting oak trees and all tubbed plants in the tiny enclosed patio are included.

Out in Del Monte Forest,
WE HAVE JUST LISTED TWO CHARMING HOMES WITH WOODED SETTINGS:
(1) 3 bedrooms, 2½ baths, wonderful family room with sliding doors to the deck, well planned and beautifully kept kitchen. In fact, the whole of this 4-year-old house is in brand new condition. The house is perfectly arranged for entertaining by you or your children, and the big garage has workshop space. The price is attractive too—just $49,500.
(2) If you want to buy now, but can't move in right away, this is the house and garden for you, for it comes complete with a very fine tenant who will remain until September 1968. The house is small—only a little over 1000 square feet—but it makes up in charm what it lacks in size. And what beautiful trees! And what a beautiful price: only $32,500!

ATTENTION, DEL MONTE SHOPPING CENTER PERSONNEL! Ideal family home for the Young Businessman with a Future . . . situated on Via Riviera and South Carmel Hills Drive in an area of growing families where the cul-de-sac location provides safety from traffic, this VERY COMFORTABLE three-bedroom home offers good dollar value at its present listing price of $33,500. Living room with patio access; family-dining room; convenient kitchen with dishwasher, disposal, Dishmaster, refrigerator and built-in cooking units; two baths; laundry area and two patios. Other attractive features include dual fireplace (serving living room and family room), draperies, carpeting and established landscaping. It is MLS No. 2295.

A REAL VIEW HOME: Situated at the end of a lane in Pebble Beach, well above all the property between it and the ocean, this home features the owner-designer's desire for adequate storage closets of every description far in excess of the normal two-bedroom, small studio requirements. One of the bedrooms, the dining room and the large living room have unobstructed ocean views. While the home is ideal for a couple, the basement was designed for expansion for a growing family. Ask to see MLS No. 2331 for this minimum-yard-maintenance $54,500 home.

THE ORIGINAL OWNERS THOUGHT OF EVERYTHING!

FIRST: They chose a site with a woodsy (but sunny) outlook on a cul-de-sac location, planted a collection of conifers from all over California, and arranged to preserve the bird and wildlife that abounds in the area.

THEN: They planned their retirement home with the assistance of one of Carmel's finest architect-builder orginizations. Included were the many special features that represented their interests . . . a studio with flexible usage, a garage with ample room for a workshop, two bedrooms and two baths with plans available for a third bedroom, a country-type kitchen and dining area, a large living room with raised-hearth fireplace and glass doors, a stereo system that includes the studio, complete fencing and outdoor lighting.

AND THEN: They thought of a central vacuum system, electric garage doors with remote control and numerous other "personalized items".

AND NOW: They have listed the property for sale at a most realistic market value of $47,000. It is MLS No. 2314.

We'll be happy to assist you in listing your property on our Carmel MLS.

Association Moves

he finished in 1936 there were 32 added to the roles of the Business Association. So the formative years slowly began to fade into history, until today when the Association boasts of a 305 membership.

Other presidents since Robison have been; J. O. Handley, Noel Van Bibber, Adolph LaFrenz, Barnet Segal, Corum Jackson, Mark Raggett, Tom Elston, Arne Halle, Tom Perry, Enos Fouratt, Robert Spencer, August Nieto, Isabel Tostevin, Gladys McCloud, Malcolm Foster, Lloyd Weer, James Rowe, Howard Brunn, Carl Bosholm, Mel Campbell, and in 1967 Gus Johnson.

Eighteen months ago Kay Scott was named Executive Secretary and began following the 39-year old custom of keeping the Association records in her home, as did all the secretaries before her. Today she has an office to help maintain necessary records.

Barbara Norberg, who was a secretary for quite a number of years, relates that during the war, when the exodus took place after Pearl Harbor, the Association decorated the empty store windows so it wouldn't look like a ghost town. Dinner meetings were catered by the secretary and the Executive Committee because of meat rationing . . . the restaurants could not take them.

In 1967, with a workable office on Dolores Street across from the side entrance of the Post Office, the Association is actively engaged in sending answers to inquiries about our area. This year over 5000 letters were answered, and 15,000 maps and brochures were issued. The answers to all the questions come in the form of literature concerning our cultural and recreational features, as well as material on restaurants, hotels, motels, shops, etc.

During the year the Executive Committee took a definite stand on the abolition of the inventory tax by informing their representatives, and they continue to prod the representatives. The Association's present project is to publish a directory of membership for a shopping guide directed at visitors as well as residents. Plans are being made to print 15,000 copies.

Kay Scott urges every businessman and woman to send his membership fee of $15.00 per year to P. O. Box 4444, Carmel, or stop by the office for further information about the Carmel Business Association.

Standing in the doorway of the new Carmel Business Association office is Executive Secretary Kay Scott, one of the driving forces behind the organizational chain of Carmel businessmen and women. This is the first rented space for an office in the 39 year history of the Association. The office is located behind Tom Perry's office on Dolores Street, directly across the street from the side entrance to the Post Office.

tion to reduce the rate 10c . . again his motion was not seconded. His reasoning behind the decrease in the tax rate is: because of the speeded up collection of sales tax, there will be a one year windfall to the city. This plus the city's estimated portion of the new cigarette tax will probably amount to about $44,000. The next fiscal year, the cigarette tax will bring the city a total of an extra $53,000, Norberg said.
